

Representative
Julie Fedorchak
ND-AL

Learn More About
the App Association

Tech Business in Your District

Bushel, based in North Dakota, builds a digital ecosystem of application programming interfaces (APIs), apps, websites, and payment solutions to support agribusinesses and modernize agriculture infrastructure. Serving more than 2,000 grain facilities—representing 40 percent of grain origination in the United States and Canada—the Bushel platform helps grain processors and farmers streamline transactions, safeguard data, and share information efficiently, fostering stronger business relationships.