

Representative
Seth Magaziner
RI-02

Learn More About
the App Economy

App Economy in Your District

Blackburn Labs is a custom software development company located in North Kingstown that has a team of software experts who help their clients address needs within app development, data science, or other software architecture elements. In addition to their headquarters, they also have a satellite office in Providence and have a team of 14 employees.